About JMI MBA Entrance Exams

JMI runs its own university-level entrance exam. It is not through CAT or any national testing agency. Everything, from notification to final selection, is handled by Jamia itself. First comes the entrance test.

It is a written exam, usually offline (pen-and-paper), though Jamia sometimes shifts formats depending on logistics. The paper is MCQ-based for most MBA programmes, including specialised ones. The duration is generally around three hours.

The question paper tests four broad areas, though weightage varies by programme:

- ✓ English comprehension and verbal ability
- ✓ Quantitative aptitude and numerical ability
- ✓ Reasoning and data analysis

Programme-specific or domain-related knowledge (very important for specialised MBAs)

Marks are awarded only for correct answers. Traditionally, Jamia does not apply negative marking, but candidates should always confirm this from the current year's prospectus.

After the written test, Jamia releases a merit list of shortlisted candidates. Shortlisting is strictly based on entrance test performance. No prior work experience or CAT score is considered at this stage.

Next comes the interview stage.

Shortlisted candidates are called for a viva voce or interview. The interview panel usually focuses on:

- ✓ Conceptual clarity
- ✓ Basic subject understanding
- ✓ Awareness related to the chosen MBA specialisation
- ✓ Communication skills
- ✓ General academic seriousness

For some programmes, Jamia may also include a group discussion or a brief written assessment, but interviews remain the core component.

Final selection is based on a combined score.

Entrance test carries the maximum weightage.

Interview/viva carries the remaining weightage.

Academic background is generally not scored separately unless clearly mentioned in the prospectus.

Once the final merit list is published, admission is offered strictly according to rank, category, and seat availability.

One important thing to remember: Jamia follows strict reservation norms as per Government of India rules, and cut-offs can vary sharply across categories.

What is common across most MBA entrances:

English comprehension and verbal ability

Quantitative aptitude and numerical ability

Reasoning and data analysis

These sections form the backbone of almost every MBA exam at JMI.

Where they differ: Each programme includes programme-specific content based on its discipline.

For example: MBA (Executive) focuses more on managerial aptitude, business environment, and decision-making.

MBA (Healthcare & Hospital Management) includes health systems, environmental awareness, and healthcare-related issues.

MBA (Pharmaceutical Management) includes pharmaceutical industry knowledge like pharma marketing, IPR, exports, and sector growth.

General MBA programmes may emphasize current affairs, economics, and business awareness.

The difficulty level, weightage, and emphasis vary from programme to programme. Even if two exams look similar, they are evaluated independently and have separate merit lists.
